PREFACE

In publishing this 1948 edition of the Connecticut Register and Manual we return to the pre-war custom of annual editions, made mandatory by the Statutes.

In this edition we have omitted certain items which will be found in the 1947 Manual. These include the list of notaries public, the Governor's Message to the General Assembly, the committees of the General Assembly, and the articles titled "The Passage of a Bill" and "A Freshman Legislative Reporter Looks at Connecticut Government".

In an attempt to broaden the usefulness of the Manual we have added several new features this year. One of these is the list of the Commissioners of Deeds for Connecticut in other states. Another is the roster of the Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of the Republican and Democratic Town Committees in the respective towns.

The list of officials of Towns, Cities and Boroughs is based on the latest information available before going to press.

It is hoped that the Register and Manual will continue to serve a useful purpose as a compendium of pertinent information with respect to the state. Any comments or suggestions for the inclusion of material in future editions will be welcomed by this office.

The preparation of the Register and Manual has been conducted by the staff of the Publications Division of the Office of the Secretary of the State. In this task they have enjoyed the cooperation of Town Clerks, Town Officials, and many others. To all of these we extend our thanks and appreciation.

Frances Burke Redick,
Secretary of the State.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

In Congress, July 4, 1776

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION of the THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.—That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate, that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great-Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operations till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt out towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connexions and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name, and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great-Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honour.

ARTICLE I.

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years. in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

* Connecticut ratified the Constitution Jan. 9, 1788, having been the fifth State to vote for ratification.

The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

Section 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second Year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one third may be chosen every second Year; and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.

No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. Section 4. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meetings shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different Day.

Section 5. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behavior, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

Section 7. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

THE FIRST CONSTITUTION OF CONNECTICUT

THE "FUNDAMENTAL ORDERS," 1638-9.

"Voted" January 14, 1638, the Fundamental Orders were the beginning of Connecticut as a commonwealth. Their spirit was that of a sermon preached by the Rev. Thomas Hooker a short time before their adoption, in the course of which he laid down the proposition "The foundation of authority is laid in the free consent of the people", and which he closed with the challenge: "As God has given us liberty let us take it." They recognized no allegiance on the part of the colonists to England but in effect set up an independent government. In the sense that they were intended to be a framework of government more permanent than the usual orders adopted by the General Court, they were in essence a constitution. The historian John Fiske was justified in his statement that this instrument was "the first written constitution known to history that created a government and it marked the beginning of American democracy." While in 1662 the Fundamental Orders were in a sense superseded by the charter, that document, drawn up in the colony and taken to England by its representative, was never regarded by the colonists as the source of their government, but as a protection for and guaranty of the government they had already set up for themselves. So it was that for forty years after the independence of this nation, Connecticut could still carry on its government under the charter. And so it is that this commonwealth has preserved a continuity of development beyond that of almost any other state or nation in the world.

Forasmuch as it hath pleased the Almighty God by the wise disposition of his divine providence so to order and dispose of things that we the Inhabitants and Residents of Windsor, Hartford, and Wethersfield are now cohabiting and dwelling in and upon the River of Connectecotte and the lands thereunto adjoining; and well knowing where a people are gathered together the word of God requires that to maintain the peace and union of such a people there should be an orderly and decent Government established according to God, to order and dispose of the affairs of the people at all seasons as occasion shall require; do therefore associate and conjoin ourselves to be as one Public State or Commonwealth; and do for ourselves and our Successors and such as shall be adjoined to us at any time hereafter, enter into Combination and Confederation together, to maintain and preserve the liberty and purity of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus which we now profess, as also the discipline of the Churches, which according to the truth of the said Gospel is now practiced amongst us; as also in our Civil affairs to be guided and governed according to such Laws, Rules, Orders, and Decrees as shall be made, ordered, and decreed as followeth:—

1. It is Ordered, sentenced, and decreed, that there shall be yearly two General Assemblies or Courts, the one the second Thursday in April, the other the second Thursday in September following; the first shall be called the Court of Election, wherein shall be yearly chosen from time to time so many Magistrates and other public Officers as shall be found requisite: Whereof one to be chosen Governor for the year ensuing and until another be chosen, and no other Magistrate to be chosen for more than one year: provided always there be six chosen besides the Governor, which being chosen and sworn according to an Oath recorded for that purpose, shall have power to administer justice according to the Laws here established, and for want thereof, according to the rule of the Word of God; which choice shall be made by all that are admitted freemen and have taken the Oath of Fidelity, and do cohabit within this Jurisdiction (*Having been admitted Inhabitants by the major part of the Town wherein they live) or the major part of such as shall be then present.

2. It is Ordered, sentenced, and decreed, that the Election of the aforesaid Magistrates shall be on this manner: every person present and qualified for choice shall bring in (to the persons deputed to receive them) one single paper with the name of him written in it whom he desires to have Governor, and he that hath the greatest number of papers shall be Governor for that year. And the rest of the Magistrates or public officers to be chosen in this manner: the Secretary for the time being shall first read the names of all that are to be put to choice and then shall severally nominate them distinctly, and every one that would have the person nominated to be chosen shall bring in one single paper written upon, and he that would not have him chosen shall bring in a blank; and every one that hath more written papers than blanks shall be a Magistrate for that year; which papers shall be received and told by one or more that shall be then chosen by the court and sworn to be faithful therein; but in case there should not be six chosen as aforesaid, besides the Governor, out of those which are nominated, then he or they which have the most written papers shall be a Magistrate or Magistrates for the ensuing year, to make up the aforesaid number.

3. It is Ordered, sentenced, and decreed, that the Secretary shall not nominate any person, nor shall any person be chosen newly into the Magistracy which was not propounded in some General Court before, to be nominated the next Election; and to that end it shall be lawful for each of the Towns aforesaid by their deputies to nominate any two whom they conceive fit to be put to election; and the Court may add so many more as they judge requisite.

* This clause was interlined in a different handwriting, and is of a later date. It was adopted by the General Court of November, 1643.

4. It is Ordered, sentenced, and decreed, that no person be chosen Governor above once in two years, and that the Governor be always a member of some approved congregation, and formerly of the Magistracy within this Jurisdiction; and all the Magistrates, Freemen of this Commonwealth; and that no Magistrate or other public officer shall execute any part of his or their office before they are severally sworn, which shall be done in the face of the court if they be present, and in case of absence by some deputed for that purpose.

5. It is Ordered, sentenced, and decreed, that to the aforesaid Court of Election the several Towns shall send their deputies, and when the Elections are ended they may proceed in any public service as at other Courts. Also the other General Court in September shall be for making of laws, and any other public occasion, which concerns the good of the Commonwealth.

6. It is Ordered, sentenced, and decreed, that the Governor shall, either by himself or by the Secretary, send out summons to the Constables of every Town for the calling of these two standing Courts one month at least before their several times: And also if the Governor and the greatest part of the Magistrates see cause upon any special occasion to call a General Court, they may give order to the Secretary so to do within fourteen days' warning; and if urgent necessity so require, upon a shorter notice, giving sufficient grounds for it to the deputies when they meet, or else be questioned for the same; And if the Governor and major part of Magistrates shall either neglect or refuse to call the two General standing Courts or either of them, as also at other times when the occasions of the Commonwealth require, the Freemen thereof, or the major part of them, shall petition to them so to do; if then it be either denied or neglected, the said Freemen, or the major part of them, shall have power to give order to the Constables of the several Towns to do the same, and so may meet together, and choose to themselves a Moderator, and may proceed to do any act of power which any other General Courts may.

7. 9. It is Ordered and decreed, that the deputies thus chosen shall have power and liberty to appoint a time and a place of meeting together before any General Court, to advise and consult of all such things as may concern the good of the public, as also to examine their own Elections, whether according to the order, and if they or the greatest part of them find any election to be illegal they may seclude such for present from their meeting, and return the same and their reasons to the Court; and if it prove true, the Court may fine the party or parties so intruding, and the Town, if they see cause, and give out a warrant to go to a new election in a legal way, either in part or in whole. But none of these Courts shall be adjourned or dissolved without the consent of the major part of the Court.

11. It is Ordered, sentenced, and decreed, that when any General Court upon the occasions of the Commonwealth have agreed upon any sum, or sums of money to be levied upon the several Towns within this Jurisdiction, that a committee be chosen to set out and appoint what shall be the proportion of every Town to pay of the said levy, provided the committee be made up of an equal number out of each Town.

THE CONSTITUTION OF CONNECTICUT*

As amended and in force July 1, 1948

Though the people of the state had long acquiesced under the form of government derived from the charter, and sanctioned by the legislature; yet it was considered by many that we had no constitution, as our government under the charter had never received the explicit approbation of the people subsequent to the declaration of independence. It was also considered to be inconsistent with the dignity of a free nation to hold their rights, even nominally by the tenure of a Royal Grant and that it was proper the powers of the government should be divided into separate departments, and individual rights be secured by a constitution that should control the legislature itself. It was therefore thought advisable to call a convention for that object. Accordingly, in 1818, a convention was assembled which agreed upon a constitution. It was submitted to the people, and approved by a vote of thirteen thousand nine hundred and eighteen in its favor and twelve thousand three hundred and sixty-four against its ratification. On the twelfth of October, 1818, Governor Wolcott issued his proclamation, at the request of the General Assembly, declaring that the constitution was thenceforth to be observed by all persons, as the Supreme Law of this State.

On October 1, 1901 a vote was taken as to the calling of a constitutional convention for the purpose of revising the constitution. The vote was 47,317 in favor and 26,745 against. A convention was held, a revised constitution proposed and a vote taken June 16, 1902 as to its adoption with the result of 10,377 for the acceptance of such revision and 21,234 against it.

PREAMBLE

The people of Connecticut acknowledging with gratitude, the good providence of God, in having permitted them to enjoy a free government, do, in order more effectually to define, secure, and perpetuate the liberties, rights and privileges which they have derived from their ancestors, hereby, after a careful consideration and revision, ordain and establish the following constitution and form of civil government.

ARTICLE FIRST.

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

That the great and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established,

WE DECLARE,

Sec. 1. That all men when they form a social compact, are equal in rights; and that no man, or set of men are entitled to exclusive public emoluments or privileges from the community.

Sec. 2. That all political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their benefit; and that they have at all times an undeniable and indefeasible right to alter their form of government in such manner as they may think expedient.

Sec. 3. The exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination, shall forever be free to all persons in this state; provided, that the right hereby declared and established shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness, or to justify practices inconsistent with the peace and safety of the state.

Sec. 4. No preference shall be given by law to any christian sect or mode of worship.

Sec. 5. Every citizen may freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty.

Sec. 6. No law shall ever be passed to curtail or restrain the liberty of speech or of the press.

Sec. 7. In all prosecutions or indictments for libels, the truth may be given in evidence, and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court.

Sec. 8. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions from unreasonable searches or seizures; and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or things, shall issue without describing them as nearly as may be, nor without probable cause supported by oath or affirmation.

Sec. 9. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall have a right to be heard by himself and by counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted by the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process to obtain witnesses in his favour; and in all prosecutions by indictment or information, a speedy public trial by an impartial jury. He shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property, but by due course of law. And no person shall be holden to answer for any crime, the punishment of which may be death or imprisonment for life, unless on a presentment or an indictment of a grand jury; except in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war, or public danger.

Sec. 10. No person shall be arrested, detained or punished, except in cases clearly warranted by law.

Sec. 11. The property of no person shall be taken for public use, without just compensation therefor.

In Memoriam

JAMES L. McCONAUGHY

JAMES LUKENS McCONAUGHY
GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF CONNECTICUT

JANUARY 8, 1947—MARCH 7, 1948

This Register and Manual is dedicated to the memory of James Lukens McConaughy, teacher, patriot and governor. To his high career of public service he brought wide experience, the highest character and an unswerving faith in the United States, its people and its institutions.

His life was dedicated to service—first in the all important task of educating youth for leadership—secondly in serving his country during war time—and finally as Governor of Connecticut.

He was a friendly man; tolerant, sincere and strong; with the mark of a great man in the humbleness of his spirit. He was strong in his humility—in his willingness to accept blame for others—in his freedom from pomp or vanity—and in his desire to consider the other side of a question.

Governor McConaughy succeeded to the Office of Chief Executive on January 8, 1947. World War II was over, but the State was faced with a multitude of problems perhaps greater than had ever existed before. Reconversion was incomplete, tax returns were diminishing, education was suffering from lack of teachers and low salaries, welfare institutions needed modernization and increased facilities, and returning veterans required assistance. Governor McConaughy faced these problems squarely with never a thought of evasion or personal consequence. Under his quiet leadership these needs have largely been met. He left a record of accomplishment in the year and two months of his administration that has seldom been equalled.

It is in this manner that he gave his life to the people of Connecticut and the nation.

Towns not maintaining vocational agriculture classes were eligible for state aid in sending qualified students to a nearby school in the above list. Students and parents could legally demand this opportunity. Arrangements were completed by the boards of education directly concerned. This offered educational advantages to small schools or those with already crowded facilities which might otherwise have needed to deprive deserving students of this vocational opportunity. Over twenty per cent of day class students during the year attended under general high school tuition grants or this special provision for state aid.

These schools furnished practical and technical instruction in farming to adult farmers and younger persons in (1) evening classes, (2) part-time classes and (3) day classes.

Future Farmers in the day classes alone had approximately $68,000 invested in their individual supervised farming programs and in addition supplied nearly fifty thousand ten hour days of labor on general chores and farm work outside of school hours and during school vacations.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

James A. Dorsey, State Supervisor of Distributive Education
Hartford

Distributive Education, a division of Vocational Education, provides training for those entering the field of distribution as a career and for those who are presently employed in a distributive occupation such as retailing, wholesaling and the service trades. Within the secondary schools its primary purpose is to improve the performance of the trainees on the job and provide such information as will enable the student to progress more rapidly in his chosen field of endeavor.

Adult extension programs are available to provide current methods and procedures in the various phases in the area of distribution for those presently employed.

There are two major classifications of programs in Distributive Education: (1) the cooperative part-time course—usually given to high school seniors, who devote one-half of their formal instructional time to Distributive Education subjects and are required to receive occupational experience on the job; such courses are now in operation in Bridgeport, Hamden, Meriden, Middletown and Norwich. (2) Adult extension courses—which provide training for the regularly employed personnel in distributive occupations and miscellaneous training programs given during the work day for supervisory personnel.

Such evening extension programs have been operated in Bridgeport, Bristol, Danbury, Hartford, Meriden, Middletown, Naugatuck, New Britain, New Haven, New London, Norwalk, Norwich, Putnam, Stamford, Torrington.

TOWNS, CITIES AND BOROUGHS

The following list of municipal officers and Justices of the Peace was compiled from returns filed with the Secretary by the local municipal clerks through July, 1948. Where the name of the post-office or express office address of the town clerk, town treasurer or first selectman is other than that of the town itself, it is given.

Statistics of towns, cities and boroughs are also secured from the clerks of the several municipalities annually, and upon them we depend for the accuracy of the data herein set forth. The area of the towns is taken from the 1902 report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. These are the only complete data available and are quoted with the exception of those corrections made by the town clerks. The populations of towns are taken from the 1940 United States Census. The children are those between the ages of 4 and 16 enumerated September, 1947. The grand lists are taken from returns filed with the tax commissioner for the year 1947.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

(The American's Creed by William Tyler Page was adopted by an act of Congress, April 6, 1918.)

I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

THE PLEDGE TO THE FLAG

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America
And to the Republic for which it stands,
One Nation, indivisible,
With liberty and justice for all."

The Pledge to the Flag, according to a report of the Historical Committee of the United States Flag Association, was written by Francis Bellamy (August 1892), a member of the editorial staff of The Youth's Companion, in Boston, Massachusetts. It was first repeated at the exercises in connection with the celebration of Columbus Day, October 12, 1892.

THE AMERICAN FLAG, ITS ORIGIN

The desire for a flag to symbolize the pride in a locality or organization runs far back into the colonial period. In 1747 flags for individual military companies were fairly common. Thus by 1776 the colonists were accustomed to having their own flags and it was but natural that the Continental Congress instruct a committee composed of George Washington, Robert Morris and Colonel George Ross to devise and produce a flag for the United States. This Committee with the probable aid of Betsy Ross designed a flag which is the basis of our present national flag. On June 14, 1777, this flag was officially adopted by the passage of the following resolution:

"Resolved, that the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation."

It is difficult to prove when and where the flag adopted in 1777 was first publicly displayed. New York claims one of the earliest uses of the flag for military purposes when it was used at Fort Stanwix.

The tradition that Betsy Ross, as early as June 1776, made a Stars and Stripes flag from a pencil sketch supplied by Washington but changed the points of the stars from six to five, has become a classic. Historians doubt its accuracy and modern historical researchers are giving much thought to Francis Hopkinson of New Jersey as the possible designer and the Fillmore or Bennington flag as the first flag.

The flag with the thirteen stripes and thirteen stars, authorized on June 14, 1777, continued to be used as the national emblem until Congress passed the following act which President Washington signed:

“That from and after May 1, 1795, the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white; and that the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field.”

This action was necessitated by the admission of the States of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union. This was the flag which Francis Scott Key saw waving over Fort McHenry and was inspired to write the “Star Spangled Banner.”

With the admission of more new states, it became apparent that the 1795 flag would have to be further modified. Therefore the final form of our flag was fixed by another act of Congress, signed by President Monroe on April 4, 1818, providing:

“That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union have twenty stars, white in a blue field.

That on the admission of every new state into the Union, one star be added to the union of the flag; and that such addition shall take effect on the Fourth of July next succeeding such admission.”

From 1818 to the present the flag has changed only in arrangement of the stars when a new state was admitted to the Union. On October 26, 1912, President Taft, by executive order, designated which star was to stand for which state. There were to be six rows of eight stars each and the stars were to symbolize the states in the order in which they ratified our national Constitution. In this arrangement the fifth star stands for Connecticut.

CONNECTICUT STATE FLAG

THE STATE FLAG

The first proposal for legislation adopting a State Flag was introduced to the General Assembly by the following communication from Governor O. Vincent Coffin, dated May 29, 1895:

"I have the honor to transmit herewith a memorial and accompanying documents from the Anna Warner Bailey Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution concerning the formal adoption of a State flag, and beg to bespeak your early attention to the patriotic purposes therein set forth."

A Resolution appointing a special committee was adopted the same day, and on July 4, 1895 House Joint Resolution No. 480 was approved, which reads as follows:

"Resolved by this Assembly: Section 1. That the flag which has up to the present time been generally accepted as the flag of this State ought to be officially and formally designated as such; and to this end that such designation be carefully and accurately prepared, the Adjutant-General is hereby instructed to prepare an official description of the State flag and report the same to the next session of the General Assembly."

Adjutant General Charles P. Graham submitted a very interesting historical report of the use of a state flag, dated January 4, 1897, a photostatic copy of which may be seen at the State Library.

The General Assembly of 1897 provided the following to be the official description of the State Flag.

"The following-described flag is the official flag of the state. The dimensions of the flag shall be five feet and six inches in length; four feet and four inches in width. The flag shall be of azure blue silk, charged with a shield of rococo design of argent white silk, having embroidered in the center three grape vines, supported and bearing fruit in natural colors. The bordure to the shield shall be embroidered in two colors, gold and silver. Below the shield shall be a white streamer, cleft at each end, bordered by gold and browns in fine lines, and upon the streamer shall be embroidered in dark blue letters the motto 'Qui Transtulit Sustinet'; the whole design being the arms of the state."

(Revised Statutes of 1930, Section 2238.)

CHARTER OAK TREE IN WHICH CONNECTICUT'S CHARTER WAS HIDDEN IN 1687.

THE STATE TREE

(GEN. STATUTES 1947, SUPPL., SEC. 609i)

"The White Oak, Quercus Alba, Shall Be The State Tree."

THE CHARTER OAK

"Only God can make a tree"

In our busy lives, let us cherish the memory of the Charter Oak—true to its trust and unto the end, an oak.

The famous old Charter Oak fell with a tremendous crash during the great storm at quarter before one o'clock on the morning of August 21, 1856. This famous monarch of the forest whose history is so intimately entwined in that of Connecticut, was supposed to be upwards of a thousand years of age.

Before Governor Wyllys came to America, he sent his steward forward to prepare a place for his residence. As he was cutting away the trees upon the hillside of the beautiful "Wyllys place" a deputation of Indians came to him and requested that he would spare this old hollow oak. They declared that it had been the 'guide of their ancestors for centuries."

On the 31st of October, 1687, Sir Edmund Andros, attended by members of his Council, and a bodyguard of sixty soldiers, entered Hartford to take by force the Charter granted to the Colony by Charles the Second in 1662. By stratagem, however, the Charter was removed from the assembly room and concealed by Captain Joseph Wadsworth, a patriot of those times, in the hollow of the Wyllys Oak, afterwards known as "The Charter Oak".

In 1689, King James abdicated, and on the 9th of May that year Governor Treat and his associate officers resumed the government of Connecticut under the Charter, which had been preserved in the Old Oak.

CURTIS GUILD in the Boston Traveler, Aug. 25, 1856

CONNECTICUT STATE SEAL

THE STATE SEAL

A complete history of the seal as then used, was published in the Register and Manual of 1889.

The first Colonial seal seems to have been suggested by General Fenwick of that time. This seal succeeded the British seal. It was slightly oval with a beaded border and smaller in size than the reproduction given here of the present seal. It was described as follows:

"This seal represents a vineyard of fifteen vines, supported and bearing fruit." Above the vines, a hand issued from the clouds at the left of the observer, holding a label with the motto: "Sustinet qui transtulit."

After the Colony received its charter the first General Assembly thereafter on October, 1662, directed its continuance as the State Seal.

When the government of the Colony was taken over by Sir Edmund Andros, this seal was destroyed. On October 25, 1711, the General Assembly directed that a new seal be adopted. This seal was still oval in shape and considerably larger than the other. Instead of fifteen vines, there were but three, and there was a hand midway to the left of the observer and pointed to them.

The immediate predecessor to the present seal was adopted in 1784 and had four clusters of grapes on the upper two vines and five on the lower. The hand was omitted and the scroll and motto appeared beneath the clusters of grapes as in the present seal. This design was made in two seals, one for impressing documents and another for wax.

One of these seals, or that used for impressing documents, became damaged. The other, or that used for impressing wax, was given to Yale University, while the former rests in the cornerstone of the State Library.

The General Assembly of 1931, by Chapter 54, described the Great Seal, and an official drawing was made upon parchment, which drawing may be seen in the office of the Secretary.

ARMORIAL BEARINGS OF STATE OF CONNECTICUT

THE ARMS OF THE STATE

(Chapter 22 P. A. 1931)

Section 1. The following-described arms shall be the official arms of the state: A shield of rococo design of white field, having in the center three grape vines, supported and bearing fruit. Below the shield shall be a white streamer, cleft at each end, bordered with two fine lines, and upon the streamer shall be in solid letters of medium bold Gothic the motto

“QUI TRANSTULIT SUSTINET.”

Sec. 2. A drawing of said arms shall be made in conformity herewith, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the state and shall be the official drawing of the arms of the state.

Sec. 3. Said arms, whether in imprint or in facsimile form, shall be used under the direction of said secretary.

Approved March 24, 1931.

In conformity with the above act, an official drawing was made upon parchment which may be seen in the office of the Secretary.

MOUNTAIN LAUREL—Kalmia Latifolia
STATE FLOWER OF CONNECTICUT

THE STATE FLOWER

The mountain laurel, designated in 1907 as the State Flower of Connecticut, is perhaps the most beautiful of native American shrubs. Its fragrance and the massed richness of its white and pink blossoms, so vividly in contrast with the gloom of the virgin forest, at once attracted the notice of the early settlers and explorers. John Smith mentioned it in his "General History" of 1624. In 1750, the Swedish traveller, Peter Kalm, sent specimens of it to Linnaeus, and the famous botanist, finding that it belonged to a genus of evergreen hitherto unknown, gave it the name Kalmia latifolia. In the first name he honored his correspondent, and in the second, described the "wide-leaved" characteristic of the plant.

Because it bore some resemblance to the European laurel, the settlers of New England already spoke of it as "laurel" or "mountain laurel." They also adopted the name "spoonwood", from the Indians, who had carved some of their eating utensils from the close-grained wood. A later generation dubbed it "Calico bush" from its resemblance to the printed cloth, and both of these descriptive names are still occasionally heard.

In Connecticut, the mountain laurel blossoms in the latter part of June. It is characteristic of the plant that the flower clusters appear in greatest profusion every second or third years, so that the area enriched by it in one season, may have little to show in the next. But as with other evergreens, the foliage is prized as well as the flower, and the wide use of its mountain laurel for decorative purposes prompted Connecticut to protect its state flower by the passage of the "Laurel Law," a pioneer enactment in the field of conservation.

The mountain laurel's immediate relatives in America are the azalea and the rhododendron. It is also cousin to the huckleberry and the blueberry, so abundant in our fields.

For a complete description of the mountain laurel, and the measures that should be taken for its protection, see P. L. Buttrick, "Connecticut's State Flower, The Mountain Laurel." (Marsh Botanical Garden Publication, Number One) New Haven, 1924.

THE AMERICAN ROBIN—Turdus Migratorius
STATE BIRD OF CONNECTICUT

THE STATE BIRD

(Gen. Statutes, 1943 Suppl., Sec. 472g)

The American Robin is a true thrush of the family Turdidæ, and is found in summer throughout North America from Alaska to Virginia. The name Robin is applied to a number of familiar birds but in North America it is the Turdus migratorius. (Meaning a migratory thrush.)

The real "Robin Red-breast" is a native of the Old World—a little bird formed much like our Bluebird with a dark brown back and reddish-orange throat and breast. Our so-called Robin is a large migratory thrush with a reddish-brown or tawny breast and a loud cheery song, but our forefathers named him Robin in remembrance of the beloved English bird, and despite the protests of naturalists the name is still used.

Most people do not know that many Robins spend the entire winter in New England where they roost among the evergreens in swamps, feed on winter berries and come out into the fields occasionally when the snow has vanished during a thaw. This common habit is so little known that nearly every winter the newspapers publish articles predicting an early spring because the "Robbins have arrived early".

The 1943 General Assembly adopted the American Robin as the official State Bird.

The Executive Residence was built in 1909 by Dr. George C. F. Williams, who occupied it until 1933. The house is of Georgian Colonial design of waterstruck brick with limestone trim and slate roof. The original cost of the development of the property was $300,000. The purchase price to the state was $38,928. The property consists of approximately six acres of grounds and a 19-room residence and a garage with caretaker's quarters. It is located at 990 Prospect Avenue near Elizabeth Park, famous nationally for its rose gardens. Situated on a hill the Executive Residence overlooks the city of Hartford and the central feature of the view is the State Capitol dome.

The property was purchased by the state in August, 1943 after thirty-eight pieces of property throughout the state were inspected and visited by the 1943 Legislative Committee on the Executive Residence.

The furniture and decorations are 18th Century originals and reproductions. On loan at the Residence are furniture, pewter, ceramics and paintings from the Mabel Brady Garvan Collection of the Yale University Art Gallery. The collection was a gift to Yale University by Francis P. Garvan, a native of East Hartford, Connecticut, and at one time Assistant United States Attorney General. He was one of the outstanding collectors of Americana in the nation. Items loaned to the state are, for the most part, of Connecticut origin and range from a tall case clock nearly 200 years old, which was made by Asabel Cheney of East Hartford, to two pewter tankards made by Thomas Danforth II of Middletown.

Governor Raymond E. Baldwin and his family occupied the residence on September 14, 1945. The formal public opening ceremonies were held on October 18, 1945.

CONNECTICUT STATE CAPITOL

THE STATE CAPITOL

In 1871 the General Assembly appointed a commission to contract for and fully complete a Capitol building in Hartford, and appropriated five hundred thousand dollars, authorizing the city of Hartford to appropriate and issue bonds to the extent of one million dollars for the same purpose.

The commission accepted the present site from the city of Hartford, and the plan of Richard Marshall Upjohn of New York, as a design for the building, which was built by James G. Batterson of Hartford.

In 1873 the plan was changed to a design for the present fireproof building, and five hundred thousand dollars additional appropriated by the State. A new commission was also appointed. In 1875 this was supplmented by a further and final appropriation of one million dollars and in that year Hartford became the Capital of the State.

The entire cost, including heating and ventilating apparatus, and such statuary as was placed at the time of erection, was $2,532,524.43, and the cost of the furniture was about one hundred thousand dollars more.

The General Assembly opened its first regular session in the building in January, 1879, but it was not fully completed until some months later.

The building at one time contained the State Library. Part of the space used for such purpose however has since been remodeled and now contains the present Senate Chamber. The Supreme Court also held sessions here and the hall which was used for this purpose is now part of the offices of the Personnel Department.

The rooms used for offices and committees are in number about ninety-two and are numbered from one hundred onward, with the exception of the Senate Chamber, Representatives Hall and the room now used for the Judiciary Committee, formerly the Old Senate Chamber. The present Senate Chamber in addition to seating the Senate of thirty-six members, can comfortably seat approximately three hundred additional persons, while the House of Representatives, besides seating two hundred and seventy-two members, can seat with the aid of its galleries about six hundred more.

The dimensions of the Capitol Building are as follows:

Extreme length, two hundred ninety-five feet, eight inches; width of central part, one hundred eighty-nine feet four inches; of wings, one hundred eleven feet eight inches; height from ground to top of roof, ninety-two feet eight inches; to top of crowning finial, two hundred forty-five feet six inches.

It is located upon a hill overlooking what was at one time the campus of Trinity College and it is within short distance of the Union Depot and but a few blocks from the new Post Office. Its grounds can be approached by drives, from Ford, Trinity and Washington Streets or by way of Capitol Avenue.

Adjacent and making complete the picturesque setting of the State Capitol is Bushnell Park, this covers 41.27 acres. On the grounds of the Park near the east entrance is the statue of General Israel Putnam and statues of Horace Wells and a Memorial to Veterans of the Spanish War are located in that part of the Park beyond Trinity Street. Upon the terrace and to the north of the Capitol are two nine inch Dahlgren guns, which were used on the warship Hartford. Conspicuous from all directions looking to the Capitol from the north side is the Corning Fountain with Indian Figures supporting it and a memorial arch spanning Trinity Street. Throughout the Park trees are planted of different varieties and from spring to late fall make its surrounding unsurpassed by any Capitol grounds.

The exterior of the building is of marble and granite, the marble being quarried from East Canaan, Connecticut, and the granite from Westerly, Rhode Island.

At the north side above the entrance appears in bas-relief figures, Colonial Life as follows: "Indian Attack upon a Fort," "Wadsworth Hiding the Charter," while in the center, is the Coat of Arms; also "Putnam Leaving His Plow," "John Holmes Sailing Past a Dutch Fort." Above these in order follow statues of the colonial leaders, John Haynes, Joseph Wadsworth, John Winthrop, Jr., Theophilus Eaton, John Mason and Roger Ludlow. In bronze medallion, upon one side of the entrance is the bust outline of General Joseph R. Hawley, whilst upon the other side is the bust outline of late Senator Orville H. Platt.

On the east front upon pedestals similarly arranged, are also statues of colonial leaders, Thomas Hooker, Roger Sherman, Jonathan Trumbull and John Davenport. Medallion heads upon the east front of the Capitol depict those of the State distinguished in arts and letters as follows: Joel Barlow, George Berkeley, Horace Bushnell, Noah Webster, John Trumbull, Jonathan Edwards and again in bas-relief: "Hooker's March to Hartford," "The Charter Oak," and "Davenport Preaching at New Haven."

On the south side of the building there appear in niches the statues of Generals John Sedgwick and Alfred Terry, while on the west side of the building statues in the niches are, Oliver Wolcott, David Humphreys, David Wooster and Oliver Ellsworth. On the grounds just off the south-east driveway are located bronze statues of Col. Thomas Knowlton and Governor Richard D. Hubbard, while at the entrance of this driveway is the "Petersburgh Express," a mortar relic of the Civil War.

Within the building at the west end protected in glass cases are the various flags used by regiments in the Civil, Spanish and World Wars which were carried by military or naval divisions of Connecticut engaged therein. There are also bronze statues of Nathan Hale and William A. Buckingham, model of the statue formerly on the Capitol dome and the figure head which once adorned the prow of the Flagship Hartford. About the first floor are also relics of the Civil War, being a portion of a tree, taken from the battlefield of Chickamauga and a wheel of a cannon used by the 1st Conn. Lt. Bt. & Vols., in various battles in the South. In the south lobby is a revolving cannon taken from the Spanish warship Viscaya and a camp bedstead used by Marquis de Lafayette.

The crowning feature of the Capitol was the winged bronze figure representing the Genius of Connecticut, by Randolph Rogers, Rome, 1877 and cast by Ferd v Miller & Sohne, Munchen, 1878. It measured seventeen feet to the tip of its wings, weighed six thousand six hundred pounds, and cost $14,000. The plaster cast in the north corridor of the Capitol is the same as the one from which the bronze was cast. In 1938 the Genius was removed and replaced by a temporary stone finial.

The twelve marble statues standing upon the twelve angles of the dome at the base of the cone represent Agriculture, Commerce, Education, Music, Science and Force. There are two of each. The models from which these statues were cut were modeled by J. Q. A. Ward of New York and are now standing on the copings of the two main stairways leading to the balcony of the House of Representatives. The statues are twice the size of the models.

On the first floor are the offices of the Comptroller, Treasurer and Bureau of School Fund, State Auditors, and the Superintendent of the Capitol.

On the second floor are the offices of the Governor, the Secretary of the State, Legislative Commissioner, the Hall of the House and rooms generally used for hearings of Judiciary and Appropriations Committees.

On the third floor are the offices of the Lieutenant-Governor, Attorney-General, Commissioner of Finance, Personnel Director, Budget Director, members of the Press and the Senate Chamber.

On the fourth floor are the offices of the Purchasing Director, Pharmacy Commission and Committee rooms in addition to the room generally used by the Judiciary Committee and Appropriations Committee on the second floor.

On the fifth floor are the offices of the Analytical Department (Comptrollers), the Capitol Restaurant, the Photostat and Stock Room (Secretary of the State).

STATE LIBRARY AND SUPREME COURT BUILDING

THE STATE OFFICE BUILDING

CONNECTICUT TOWNS IN THE ORDER OF THEIR ESTABLISHMENTS; WITH THE ORIGIN OF THEIR NAMES

Until 1700 almost the only official action of the colonial government (General Court) in regard to town organization, was to authorize the town name, usually chosen by its leading man, from his home in England. In October, 1700, we find implied or quasi incorporation, such as exists to this day in the records. "This assembly doth grant to the inhabitants of the town of Lebanon all such immunities, privileges and powers, as generally other townes within this Colonie have and doe enjoy." The authoritative legal definition of a town in England, contemporary with the earliest Connecticut settlements is given in the first edition of Coke's Commentaries upon Littleton, published 1628: "It can not be a town in law, unless it hath, or in past time hath had, a church, and celebration of Divine services, sacraments and burials." The churches, which moved bodily, with their pastors, from Massachusetts to Connecticut, proceeded to exercise the secular powers which we regard as those of the town, but the English township is known by its ecclesiastical name of parish. Several of our towns were first set off as parishes from great town-tracts; yet the town in Connecticut colony essentially separated church and state in government, in that it never restricted political suffrage to church members. As to dates, the official colonial records are followed, as soon as they begin, 1636.

CONNECTICUT FROM 1756 TO 1940

The census of 1774 embraces as a part of Litchfield County "Westmoreland, 1,922", presumably the Pennsylvania tract at that time claimed by Connecticut. "Fair Haven, 1,317," is included in the figures for 1850. The creation of new towns explains many apparent losses in population of the older ones. See section "Towns, Cities and Boroughs", in this volume.

REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS FROM CONNECTICUT SINCE 1789

Previous to 1837 the Representatives from this State were elected by the people at large. The number at first, under the Constitution, was five and by later apportionments was changed in 1793 to seven, in 1823 to six, and in 1843 to four. From 1837 to 1843 they were elected one from each of the six districts into which the state was divided by an Act of the General Assembly; from 1843 to 1911 they were elected, one from each of the four districts established by the General Assembly of 1842, as follows: District number one, consisting of the counties of Hartford and Tolland; district number two, the counties of New Haven and Middlesex; district number three, the counties of New London and Windham; district number four, the counties of Fairfield and Litchfield. A fifth representative, to which the State is entitled under the census of 1900, was chosen at large. At the session of 1911 the State was divided into five districts as follows: District No. 1, County of Hartford; District No. 2, Counties of Tolland, Windham, New London and Middlesex; District No. 3, Towns of Cheshire, Meriden, Wallingford, Bethany, Hamden, North Haven, North Branford, Guilford, Madison, Woodbridge, Orange, West Haven, Milford, New Haven, East Haven and Branford in County of New Haven; District No. 4, County of Fairfield; District No. 5, County of Litchfield and the Towns of Southbury, Middlebury, Waterbury, Wolcott, Oxford, Naugatuck, Prospect, Beacon Falls, Seymour, Ansonia, and Derby in the County of New Haven. At the session of 1921, a law was passed creating the office of congressman-at-large to be in effect when the federal apportionment gave Connecticut six congressmen as at present.

GOVERNORS OF CONNECTICUT†

The supreme executive power of the State is vested by the Constitution in the Governor. He has the power to administer oaths, sign writs, issue processes, and to see that the laws of the State are faithfully executed. In case of emergency he may convene the General Assembly in special session. He is commander-in-chief of the militia of the State, has power to grant reprieves in all cases except impeachment, and has jurisdiction in the matter of requisitions from other states for criminals. He has power to veto any bills passed by the General Assembly, but his veto may be overridden by a majority vote in both Houses upon reconsideration. Any bill which is neither signed nor vetoed by him within five days after being presented to him (Sundays and legal holidays excepted) during the session of the General Assembly, becomes a law, in like manner as if signed by him. After adjournment of the General Assembly he is allowed fifteen calendar days after bills have been presented to him in which to act. The Governor must also present a biennial budget for the State early in the session of each General Assembly and has control over the quarterly allotments granted after the budget has been acted on by the General Assembly. He must from time to time give to the General Assembly information concerning the State and recommend such measures as he deems expedient. He may adjourn the General Assembly in case of disagreement between the two Houses to such time as he thinks proper, but not beyond the day of the next stated session. He nominates to the General Assembly the judges of the Supreme, Superior, Common Pleas and Juvenile Courts and appoints, with the consent of the Senate or the General Assembly, the Commissioner of Aeronautics, the Banking Commissioner, the Commissioner of Finance and Control, Highway Commissioner, Insurance Commissioner, Commissioner of Labor and Factory Inspection, a Milk Administrator, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Public Utilities Commissioners, State Water Commissioners, Tax Commissioner, Commissioner of Food and Drugs, Commissioner of Farms and Markets, and Commissioner of Welfare. He appoints directly a Commissioner of Athletics, Commissioners of Fisheries and Game, Health Commissioner, Liquor Control Commissioners, Police Commissioner, and the members of various other boards and commissions. He is ex-officio a member of the Board of Control of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, the State Board of Education, the Board of Education of the Blind, the Board of Pardons, the State Library Committee, the Board of Trustees of the Connecticut State Hospital, and the Corporation of Yale University.

The Governor presided over the General Assembly before it was divided into two Houses in 1698; from that date until the adoption of the Constitution of 1818 he presided in the council or upper house, with a casting vote, but no veto power. At the present time the Lieutenant-Governor presides over the Senate.

The title of His Excellency was given to the Governor by an act passed in May, 1777.

The Governor holds office for two years and receives an annual salary of $12,000. The Governor also is furnished a Governor's Residence located at 990 Prospect Avenue, Hartford.

DEPUTY OR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNORS

Before the Constitution of 1818 the Deputy-Governor presided in council, or the upper house of the General Assembly, in the absence of the Governor, but when the Governor was present the Deputy-Governor had a voice in council. Until 1818 he could exercise the office of a justice of the peace throughout the State, and he could sign writs until 1879.

The Lieutenant-Governor is President of the Senate, has a casting vote therein, and the right to debate when it is in Committee of the Whole. In case of the death, resignation, refusal to serve, inability to perform the powers and duties of his office, impeachment, removal from office or absence from the State of the Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor is required by the Constitution "to perform the duties of the Governor, until another be chosen at the next periodical election for Governor and be duly qualified, or until the disability be removed, or until the Governor impeached or absent, shall be acquitted or return." He is ex-officio, a member of the Corporation of Yale University, the State Board of Education and the Board of Visitors to the Sheffield Scientific School.

The title of His Honor was conferred upon the Lieutenant-Governor at the revision of the Statutes in 1784.

He is elected for two years and receives an annual salary of $4,500.

The names of those who are now living are marked*.

SECRETARIES

After the adoption of the Fundamental Orders, Edward Hopkins was chosen as the first Secretary of the State. Since that date, the duties assigned to the Secretary have grown with the growth of Connecticut and its increasing governmental activities. Today, the office has more than fifty constitutional or statutory duties to perform.

The office is charged with custody of the public documents and formal records of the State, among the more important of which are the Acts and Resolutions, and Orders of the General Assembly.

The department has been assigned the duty of administration of the laws relative to corporations created under the provisions of the General Statutes. This task includes the approval of all certificates of incorporation, organization and dissolution to mention only a few of the items in this large volume of business.

Other functions of the office are prescribed by the Election Laws which call for the office's filing and checking of all petitions for party designation on ballots and voting machine labels and the filing of lists of candidates for office. Approval of voting machines as to accuracy and efficiency is delegated to the Secretary. Local election officials obtain instructions and samples of supplies from the Secretary for use in connection with voting machines. Various election statistics are returned to this Department, as are also returns required under the Corrupt Practice Act.

The Secretary supervises the publication of the Connecticut State Register and Manual, the Statement of Vote, Manual and Roll of the General Assembly and individual volumes devoted to Corporation Laws, Election Laws, Trade Mark Laws, digest of Workmen's Compensation Decisions, Reports of the Supreme Court, and digests of the decisions of the Supreme Court.

Included in a group of miscellaneous functions are the calling of the Senate to order and administration of the official oath on the first day of each session; certification of copies of official records, the affixation of the Seal to all commissions issued in the name of and by the State, and records concerned with legislative appearances.

Duties added to the office by recent General Assemblies include the filing of all rules and regulations issued by state agencies and commissions and the maintenance of a Division of Professional and Vocational Licensing, charged with keeping a central registry of information concerning twenty-one state licensing boards and commissions.

The Office of the Secretary is a revenue producing agency with receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947 totaling $445,816. These revenues are derived from corporation fees and from sales of publications and services.

The Secretary is a member of the State Library Committee and the State Board of Canvassers.

Election to the office of Secretary is for a term of two years, at a salary of $6,000 per annum.

The names of those who are now living are marked*.

COMPTROLLERS

The office of Comptroller was created in 1786 by virtue of an act of the General Assembly and thereafter until 1838 appointments to this office were made by the General Assembly. The Constitutional Amendment of 1836 provided that the Comptroller be elected by the people, in a manner similar to that of other State Officers, and since the year 1838 this method has been in effect.

Previous to the establishment of this office, orders on the Treasurer might be drawn by the Governor, or assistants, or by justices of the peace for sums under forty shillings. The Committee of the Pay-Table, which this office superseded, was originally established to liquidate and adjust accounts of expenses relating to the War of the Revolution.

The Comptroller is required to adjust and settle all public accounts and demands, excepting grants and orders of the General Assembly. The prescribing of the mode of keeping and rendering all public accounts is his responsibility. Periodically, the Comptroller renders an accounting of the State's debts and credits; examines into the collection of taxes to ascertain that all officers engaged in their assessment, or collection, are faithfully performing their duties, and reports to the General Assembly those who are remiss in this regard; presents all claims in favor of the State against estates of insolvent and deceased persons, and brings suit for the recovery of the money and property of the State.

All obligations against the State, whether they be purchase order, contract or otherwise, are approved and recorded by the Comptroller. Any purchase order, or contract, is void unless it carries his approval and certificate that it is recorded and charged against the applicable specific appropriation and that there are sufficient unencumbered funds. A copy of such certified purchase order, or contract, is then transmitted by him to the respective vendor or contractor.

In addition, when the General Assembly established the Real Asset Control and Field Service Division under the Comptroller's Department, the Comptroller was made responsible for all new construction, repair and maintenance of any real asset involving an expenditure in excess of one thousand dollars; the assigning of office space and the providing of necessary accommodations for all State agencies. With the establishment of this division under his jurisdiction, he likewise was made responsible for the supervision, care and control of the building and grounds of the State Capitol, the State Office Building, the official residence of the Governor, the State Police buildings located in Hartford, and leased quarters for State agencies located in the various cities and towns throughout the State.

The compilation of semi-monthly employees' payrolls for all State departments and institutions is another of his responsibilities, as also is the providing of furniture, standard forms, and other necessary articles for all State offices and for the General Assembly.

Printing of all State forms, reports and the Connecticut State Law Journal, is under his direction.

At the opening of each regular session of the General Assembly, and more often if required, he submits to this body an abstract of the receipts and expenditures of the public funds for the two years ending the 30th of June preceding, and plans and estimates relating to the public expenditures, revenues and funds.

The Comptroller, by direction of the General Assembly, administers miscellaneous appropriations which, including the cost of the Comptroller's office, amount to over $6,000,000 a biennium.

He is a member and secretary of the Employees' Retirement Commission, records of which are kept in his office; a member of the Board of Canvassers and Banking Commission; ex-officio, one of the Auditors of the Treasurer's accounts.

Elected for a term of two years, the Comptroller receives an annual salary of $6,000.

ATTORNEYS-GENERAL

The office of Attorney-General was created by the General Assembly of 1897. The incumbent is elected by the people, in the same manner as the other State officers and must be an attorney-at-law of at least ten years active practice at the bar of this State.

His duties include a general supervision over all legal matters in which the State is an interested party, except those over which prosecuting officers have direction. He is required to appear for the State, the several elective State officers, the State boards, commissions, agents, etc., and institutions, in all suits and other civil proceedings, excepting upon criminal recognizances and bail bonds, in which the State is a party or is interested, or in which the official acts and doings of said officers are called in question in any court or other tribunal. He is called upon to give his opinion upon questions of law submitted to him by either branch of the General Assembly, to appear before legislative committees, when measures affecting the State treasury are pending, and take such action as he may deem to be for the best interests of the State, and act as general counsel for State Officials in matters pertaining to their official duties.

He is chosen for a term of four years and receives an annual salary of $10,000.

CHIEF JUSTICES

The highest court in Connecticut was the General Assembly, until 1784, when it relinquished its function as an appellate tribunal to the upper house, which, when sitting for these purposes, was designated as the Supreme Court of Errors. The presiding officer or Chief Judge was at first the Deputy Governor, and later the Governor. In 1807 the membership of this court was completely changed by substituting, under an Act of the preceding year, the Judges of the Superior Court, the Chief Judge of which became the presiding officer. The customary appellation was for some years, Chief Judge, but in the Constitution of 1818 the term Chief Justice was employed, and confirmed a practice already established in that respect.

VETERANS' INFORMATION

The State of Connecticut has taken the lead in providing facilities to assist its veterans on their return to civilian life. Even before VJ Day this program, largely framed by veterans of World Wars I and II, was completely integrated and functioning. It has been widely copied by other states.

The major features of the Connecticut program for veterans are summarized as follows:

CONNECTICUT VETERANS' ADVISORY COMMISSION

This commission is charged with coordinating veterans affairs on a state level and with assisting and advising local communities in establishing local veterans' service centers. With the commission's help 57 full time centers have been opened throughout the state.

VETERANS' HOME COMMISSION

This body is responsible for the management of the State Veterans' Home and Hospital at Rocky Hill. Upon completion of its present building program this institution will provide facilities for 612 hospital cases and 776 domiciliary cases. Its facilities are available for all Connecticut veterans. The commission is also authorized to provide aid for certain dependents of veterans who are in the Home or who are hospitalized.

SOLDIERS', SAILORS' AND MARINES' FUND

Administered by an unpaid commission of state officers, this fund is available for aid, hospitalization and medical care for Connecticut veterans, their wives, widows and children under sixteen. Applications for assistance are made through service officers of the American Legion. The 1947 General Assembly made provision for increasing this fund from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000.

VETERANS' BONUS

The 1947 General Assembly passed a Connecticut veterans bonus law. Payments are made at the rate of $10 for each month of active service with a maximum of $300. Eligibles for this bonus are veterans or wives, children or mothers of deceased veterans.

TAX AND LICENSE FEE EXEMPTIONS

a. Veterans have been given a permanent annual $1,000 property tax exemption which increases up to $3,000 for disabled veterans.

b. Veterans who start new businesses have been given a three year exemption from payment of the unincorporated business tax and a similar exemption from the payment of property taxes on stock in trade, fixtures and equipment used in such business.

c. Veterans have been exempted from the payment of fees for the renewals of licenses and registrations, with the exception of those pertaining to liquor, until the next renewal period immediately following discharge.

d. Veterans have been given a permanent exemption on the $3.00 old age assistance tax. (This tax was abolished by the 1947 General Assembly.)

a. Provisions have been made for the issue of a state high school diploma to veterans who have not graduated from high school, provided they can show satisfactory qualifications.

b. The State Board of Education has been authorized to open veterans high schools.

c. Scholarships amounting to $200 a year in higher institutions of learning have been provided for the children of veterans killed in World Wars I and II.

d. Educational facilities in the State have been expanded and state operated teachers' colleges and technical schools have been placed on a year round operating basis.

e. Apprentice and on-the-job training personnel have been expanded.

f. Veterans who have graduated from a recognized law school since June 1, 1941 are eligible for admission to the Connecticut bar without taking examinations, provided their moral qualifications are approved by the local county bar association.

g. Free transportation is provided to veterans attending vocational schools.

HOUSING

The 1947 General Assembly passed legislation providing for a state guarantee of interest on bonds issued by local housing authorities for the construction of moderate rental housing units for veterans.

EMPLOYMENT BENEFITS IN STATE SERVICE

a. War veterans receive five additional points credit on merit system examinations, while disabled veterans receive ten points additional credit.

b. Until 1950 it is the policy of the State to give preference to veterans of World War II in all positions outside the classified service of the merit system and in all positions involving contractual services and part time services and in all cases where compensation is paid by the State, whether on a fee basis or otherwise.

c. Until 1950 it is the policy of the State to give preference to veterans of World War II in filling state positions from registers of eligible candidates.

d. Veterans entering the State service are credited with time spent in war service for determination of benefits, seniority, etc.

BANKING

Connecticut banking laws have been revised to enable state banking institutions to participate in the features of the G.I. Bill of Rights.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

To encourage Connecticut employers to employ disabled veterans, a "second injury" fund has been established to provide for compensation of disabled veterans who receive accidents while employed.

BURIAL ASSISTANCE

The State provides up to $100 for the burial expenses of veterans who died with insufficient estate to pay necessary expenses of last sickness and burial.

VENDING OR PEDDLING

Connecticut veterans are exempt from the payment of any local license fees for the privilege of selling or vending goods, wares or merchandise.

For ascertaining any Day of the Week for any given Date within Two Hundred Years from the Introduction of the New Style, 1753 to 2000 inclusive

[illegible]

How to use the Ready Reference Calendar—To ascertain any day of the week, first look in the table for the year required, and under the months are figures which refer to the corresponding figures at the head of the columns of days below. For Example: To know on what day of the week July 4, 1918, fell, look in the table of years for 1918, and in a parallel line under July is figure 1, which directs to column 1 in which it will be seen that July 4 fell on Thursday.

In leap years the month of February has 29 days.
